Claim 9 was rejected under 35 USC §103(a) as being unpatentable over TRIBIOLI in view of CHARLOT and LEBEN and HUNTSMAN and further in view of TUCKER et al. US 5,733,679.

Claim 11 was rejected under 35 USC §103(a) as being unpatentable over TRIBIOLI in view of CHARLOT and LEBEN and HUNTSMAN and further in view of DIFRANCESCO et al. US 5,199,487.

Claim 12 was rejected under 35 USC §103(a) as being unpatentable over TRIBIOLI in view of CHARLOT and LEBEN and HUNTSMAN and further in view of RIGO et al. US 4,108,736.

Claim 13 was rejected under 35 USC §103(a) as being unpatentable over TRIBIOLI in view of CHARLOT and LEBEN and HUNTSMAN and further in view of SUNSHINE et al. US 6,033,602.

Claim 14 was rejected under 35 USC §103(a) as being unpatentable over TRIBIOLI in view of CHARLOT and LEBEN and HUNTSMAN and further in view of DIFRANCESCO and RIGO.

Claim 15 was rejected under 35 USC §103(a) as being unpatentable over TRIBIOLI in view of CHARLOT and LEBEN and HUNTSMAN and further in view of HONER US 3,966,497.

Claim 16 was rejected under 35 USC §103(a) as being unpatentable over TRIBIOLI in view of CHARLOT and LEBEN and HUNTSMAN and further in view of DESA et al. US 2003/0179652.

These rejections are respectfully traversed.

Claim 1 of the present invention sets forth an auxiliary electrical cell directly supplies electrical energy to an engine for the propulsion of the movable device and all members of the electrical cell during the stage of launching. The auxiliary electrical cell 1<sub>0</sub> can be seen for example in Figure 1a of the application, reproduced below.

In TRIBIOLI, the auxiliary battery 20 is used only to supply the motor of the pump 10 of the battery 1, as can be seen in Figure 1 of the reference reproduced below.

In CHARLOT, the "small auxiliary pile 11" is used only to feed the motor 10 of the pump 9, as can be seen in Figure 1 of the reference reproduced below.

In LEBEN, there is no auxiliary battery.

Thus, as recognized in the Official Action, TRIBIOLI in view of CHARLOT and LEBEN do not disclose that the auxiliary electrical cell is configured to supply electrical energy to an engine for the propulsion of the movable device and all members of the electrical cell during the stage of launching.

Newly cited HUNTSMAN is offered for this feature.

HUNTSMAN discloses a system including an electricity generating device 102, of the piezoelectric type, which is coupled with a power source 106, of the flywheel type. The flywheel powers a power bus 124 to which is connected a propeller motor 28.

In an alternative embodiment, HUNTSMAN encompasses the use of a battery connected in parallel with the flywheel 106. As mentioned in paragraph 34, this battery can be used in place of the flywheel.

The Office Action asserts that the man skilled in the art would have read HUNTSMAN, in which he would have found the feature that the auxiliary battery directly supplies power to a motor.

But HUNTSMAN does not disclose an auxiliary power source capable of being used to supply power to an engine for the propulsion of the vehicle and to the main power generation means (i.e, the cell) during its stage of launching. See last subparagraph of claim 1.

Consequently, because not all the features of the claimed object can be found or inferred in the applied prior art documents, one of skill in the art would not produce a claimed embodiment of the present invention. A prima facie case of unpatentability has thus not been made.

The other applied art references do not address the deficiencies of the applied art (especially newly applied HUNTSMAN) discussed above.

These rejections are believed to be overcome, and withdrawal thereof is respectfully requested.

These rejections are believed to be overcome, and withdrawal thereof is respectfully requested.
